IDENTITY

Initially I was inspired by my mother's stories of the Vietnam War - She mentioned in my interview to her being 11 at the time; the gun fires and bomb explosions were like fireworks, I used this as a starting point to then research further into this idea of what bought her comfort during those unbearable times: she handed me a beaded bracelet. I wanted to depict her memories through these series of Textile samples. It eventually lead me to creating a look inspired by the techniques explored.
